about the issue. We care only for our country and her institutions. Our own deep conviction is that the American public echoil system as now organized in not only the best in the world, but the only Bishop Spatiting reason, in one prace, a long and cloquest homily on the value of the soul and the importance of salvation. We assure him that there is nothing in all his articles which we have read with a more careful attention. "Has the Journal writer ever maked himself what is the value of an immortal soul? Has he ever reflected that its price in the blood of the Saviour God freely and on the cross? Has he ever medicated on the saying of St. Paul, that without faith it is impossible to please God?" Well, all we have to answer to those important practical questione, is, that all we know about such things, and all we suppose may body else knows, is just what we have learned in the Bibble, even from the days of childhood. We cannot for a moment imagine, that, on all these high matters, Bishop Spalling has any information whatever, except what he has learned from the Book of God, which is the only thing in the world we have ever hand of chairing all the night of many contains house. capt what he has learned from the Book of God, which is the only thing in the world we have ever heard of as being able to give us any certain knowledge about the soul and its salvation. Wa cannot think, that he, either he a "Christian Philosopher," or a Kentnekian of strong, native, common sense, can give into the old exploded dogma, that the church—his church or any other—has any information on those subjects, over and above what we have all alike gotten, or may get, from a careful reading of the Scriptures.

Livery lime he touches it channelson like, it assumes a new aspect; and this last one is so stronge that we are at a loss to conceive what is the presented anywhere else through all the discussion. The system which he for the Scriptures.

It fills us therefore with no little surprise, that, after expressing so deep a concern for the sout's salvation, a concern deep enough be says to make him philet, examined it in our feet evies, and howed that it was wholly inapple the 10 our rountry, that it was wholly inapple tile to ann rounity, better the solution of the sol Paul, to whom he refers us, greatly commends young showed so fully that this would rever d., that the Timesthy, just because he "had known the Scriptures" Bishop has now himself virtually acknowledge. by, just because he "had known the Scriptures Bishop has now himself viriously acknownesting is childhood," which, he save, "were able to that it never will. True, we may not as to what he meant, and that the system as argued by us would be, as we alloge, at utter variant what we do know we have learned from the Bible, with the Constitution of our country. And now and a good pertion of that was learned, as Timother the Hole, and have been been of that was learned, as Timother the Hole, in very early childhood. And we have very little doubt that the great many of people the world over have learned most that they know perty much is the same way from reading the Bible in early youth. And yet Bishop Spalding, wholly unlike that Apoetle to whom he refer nu, would be the second article of his series, and we think we may be safely dry any man in the world to find in the whole number even a hint ou the important feature. safely defy any tan in the world to find in the carly years. And yet flished spalling, wholly unlike that Apostle to whom he refers us, would keep the children from reading or even hearing the little care a day at achool.
